

Why you should be very wary booking accommodation through hotel comparison sites

By Riordan Lee

15 APR 16

f 50

Travel websites like Expedia and Wotif take the legwork out of booking your holidays, but a lot of the time you may be better off without them.

Hotel comparison websites are the go-to for most travellers – they're simple, they're easy and they 'guarantee' you the best possible price.

But Australian consumer affairs show The Checkout has done an investigation into the industry and found a lot of the time you might actually be getting a raw deal.

Get a free 6 month
Apple Music Membership

With a Telstra post-paid mobile plan

Find out more >